Santa Sabina Center is located in Marin County, 11 miles North of San Francisco, accessible by both the Golden Gate Bridge from San Francisco, and the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge from the Oakland and the East Bay.

From either 101 North or 101 South, take the Central San Rafael exit. If coming on South 101 from the North, the exit will put you onto Mission St. where you will turn left two blocks to Grand Avenue. If coming on North 101 out of San Francisco or the East Bay, the exit will put you on Irwin St. and 2nd, where you will continue up Irwin four blocks to Mission, and take a right on Mission (one block after 5th) to Grand Avenue. If coming from the East Bay, take #580 West to San Rafael / North 101 and follow the above "North" directions.

In either case, continue up Grand Avenue to your left following the signs to Dominican University. Enter the University on Acacia (it only goes right) off of Grand, and follow Acacia one long block through the campus. Where Acacia ends, turn right onto Magnolia and follow Magnolia for one block where you will see a sign for Santa Sabina with an arrow pointing left. Follow Magnolia in this direction for c. 100 yards until the end of Magnolia (the corner of Magnolia and DeerPark) and you will see on your right a big sign for the Santa Sabina Center entrance. Drive in and park anywhere. The main door into the building will be on the right directly in front of you as you drive in.

The travel time to Santa Sabina after you cross the Golden Gate Bridge is about 20 minutes. Coming from the North on #80 and crossing over to #37, the travel time from Vallejo is about 30 minutes. From Berkeley, the travel time on #580 is no more than 30 minutes. All of these times are contingent upon easy traffic conditions.
